INTRODUCTION

Well, it's completed. The 1971-1972 school term at O.H.S. has ended. This last year, which seemed like an eternity has come to a close. I'm sure all of us have memories of this past school year — both good and bad. Memories that we'll cherish for the rest of our lives, and memories that we sometimes wish we could easily forget.

If this was your first year in O.H.S. as a freshman, then maybe your memories focus back to that first day of school. How new and strange everything seemed. How hard it was getting adjusted to the different faces, methods of teaching, and the 30 minute lunch shifts.

As a sophomore maybe your recollections are on the big advancement that you made from Jr. High to the almighty Sr. High. This involved more football and basketball games, more dances and parties, more dates, (?) more fun, and a better sense of belonging.

If you were a junior this year I'm sure you have many special memories. Remember the day you ordered your class rings? Or remember Prom? Remember how the fear grew on the thought that the decorations would not be put up in time for that all important night? Remember the fear that your class money would not stretch quite far enough?

As a senior maybe your thoughts reflect back on all those things you said you were going to get done, but you never found the time to do. Now your thoughts are on the future — will it be college, marriage, a job, or travel?

As teachers maybe you have memories of the day the students locked you out of your classroom, or the day that one boy got out of hand just once too often, or the day you found a love note on your desk — which made everything seem OK!

If you've been active in sports this past year, your memories may reflect back on those everyday practices after school, when you could have been with your favorite girl.

Many of you may have memories from the sad and tearful Ordette Banquet, or the happy and wild F.B.L.A. Polka Stomp. I'm sure everyone who was on the speech team will always remember the great bus trips. Maybe the F.H.A. and F.F.A. members have special memories of their Sweetheart Dance. I'm sure all Student Council members will never forget the Student Council Convention. And all Drill Team girls — remember how stiff we all became after practicing that one certain drill?

These are only a few of the memories and recollections that some of us may have from this past school year. With these and many other memories in mind, let's make tracks and review this past 1971-1972 school term. Are you ready? If so — turn the page and we'll begin. The theme for our journey back through this past year is "Chant Tracks."

Chant Track Review

The 1971-1972 school year has been exciting, stimulating, inspiring, intoxicating, gratifying, mystifying, captivating, beneficial, shocking, questionable, startling, inestimable, and above all exhausting.

Ruffle up your feathers and come with us as we review the tracks that have been made during the 1971-1972 school year.

August 26, 1971. On this date, the halls of O.H.S. once again rang with the excited sounds that accompany students on the first day of school. Voices comparing class schedules, renewing old acquaintances, discussing past summer experiences, and above all wishing the school year was over.

The new school year brought many changes to O.H.S. Among them we find six new teachers — Miss Rohde, Mr. King, Mr. Foote, Mr. Pehacek, Mr. Adams, and Miss Stewart — all striving toward the same goal.???

As we make tracks to the Home Ec. room we find a new carpet and cupboards which provide a better environment for learning and practical application in the area of home economics.

Tracking to the chemistry-physics room we not only find it larger but we soon discover the entire Science program has undergone tremendous renaissance during the summer. Individualized study for chemistry and physics students proved to be superior to the conventional "lecture" type of teaching program in many ways.

The change that affected the student body the most was a new addition to the Senior Class — Miss Eeva Karhi, foreign student from Vammala, Finland. Eeva proved to be a friend to all and a constant joy during her one year stay in Ord.

Our Chant Tracks next remind us of Mr. King's Junior English Class that began the year by performing a number of satirical plays based on themes ranging from television commercials to a typical day at school.

Mr. Buoy
Mr. Buoy just loves bananas!

Bob Lambert
"Where's the stairs?"

"Hi Pat, haven't seen you all summer! (Ha, Ha)."

Rita Wojtasek

Eeva Karhi
Eeva in her natural habitat.

Clothing and hair styles played an important role in everyday life at O.H.S. as our "Chant Tracks" will soon show us.

1971-1972 is noted as being the "Age of the Pantsuit!" Slacks worn with tunic tops, hip length, knee length, or crocheted vests was the fashion trend. Gradually the style changed to "tucked-in" blouses or body suits worn with everybody's favorite — blue jeans — and a wide belt.

The girls of Ord High made tracks throughout the year wearing knee-high boots and shoes with high "clunky" heels.

Midi and maxi length dresses were the craze as the school term began but was gradually replaced in O.H.S. by the traditional mini skirt.

1971-1972 was a popular year for several "fads" in clothing styles. Fringed leather purses, shoes. Fringed leather purses, shoes, rings, belts, necklaces, hair ornaments, and other leather accessories made a big splash in the fashion world during the latter part of 1971. Red, white, and blue gained popularity as stars and stripes were introduced together in the fashion world. Perhaps the greatest fad of all was the comeback of the wire-rimmed glasses. Young and old alike were seen wearing updated versions of this style of the 1900's.

White and pastel colored shirts are a thing of the past. The young men of O.H.S. arrived for the 1971-72 school term wearing brightly colored, flowered, or striped shirts set off by a wide 4" necktie and sharp flair-legged pants. The white neckties deserve special recognition along with the "bib" overalls, blue denim jackets, and a variety of hats.

Hair styles supplied many topics for discussion at O.H.S. For the girls, the style varied from "shag" to straight, long hair worn with small barrettes at the temple. The big controversy of 1972 concerned boys' hair length. Although the boys preferred long hair and sideburns, they were frequently escorted to the friendly neighborhood barbershop where they returned to the school with "white ears" once again visible.

Bryan Mentzer

Lavern Proskocil, James Switzer, Frank Miska

Shirley Bruha

Rita Wojtasek, Peg Worm

Jim Dale
Stripes are Slimming!

Making many tracks this year was the Ord F.F.A. and F.H.A. Chapters. These groups sponsored such annual events as the Sweetheart Dance. Daddy Date Night was also sponsored by the F.H.A. The F.H.A. chapter also served as hostess for the district F.H.A. Convention.

As our Chant Tracks direct us to sports we find Cross Country, Girls Volleyball and Football well underway. Before we know it Homecoming and all the school spirit it generated has come and gone leaving Terri Hyde to reign as Queen until next year. All the decorations and spirit tags will be taken down and put away until such time again next year.

Our Chant Tracks next remind us of the very successful senior class play "The Matchmaker," under the direction of Mrs. Geweke. Dave Hastings and Jan Remington were named the outstanding actor and actress.

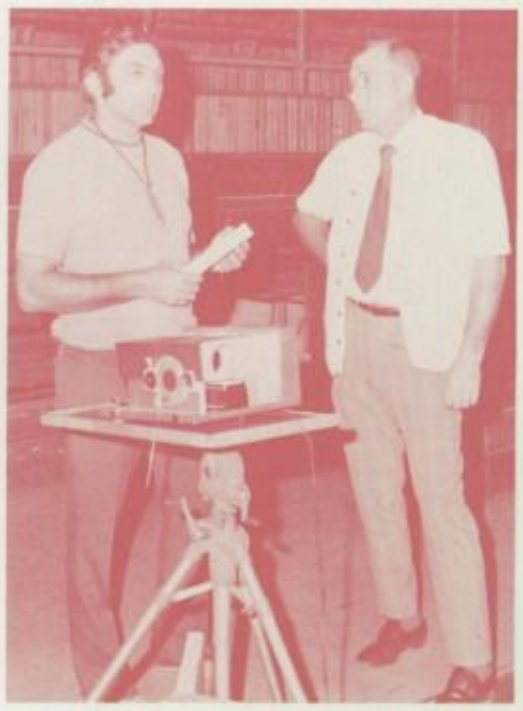
Following out tracks, the seniors especially are next reminded of College Night. Should I go into a Business School, a Beauty School, the Service, or should I attend the University? We are also reminded of the SAT and ACT tests which launched 98 members of the Senior Class into a world of planning and preparation for the future at a feverish pace. Test, applications, scholarships, and finances, invariably result in confusion and many trips to Mr. Buoy's office for a quick cry, a plea for help, and some good advice.

Life at O.H.S. wasn't all work though. Our Chant Tracks remind us that the Administration with the help of the Student Council, provided the students with convocations throughout the year. One convocation starred Danny Liska and another convocation featured the Hastings Civic Symphony Orchestra.

At this time we see several members of the Student Council making "tracks" to the State Student Council Convention in Omaha. They returned with many new ideas concerning student lounges and the dress code that have provided topics for numerous "discussions" throughout the school year that will never be forgotten by either student or administration.

Following of the "tracks" of the Student Council members, Mr. Curtright's physiology class made a trip to Omaha to visit the Medical Center. Mr. Buoy once again succeeded in demonstrating his superior driving ability by disengaging the bus bumper from the bus. This truly was an exciting field trip!

Ernie French
Typical Ernie on a typical school day???



Dan Liska, Mr. VanNordheim
"Yes, Mr. VanNordheim, I think a trip to Africa is just what you need!!"

Mr. Buoy's masterpiece!!!

Deb Setlik, Keith Paulsen, Larry Koelling
Student Council Conventions can be quite embarrassing to the shy male sex!!

F.H.A. busy again??

The Juniors are equally as busy as the Seniors. Magazine sales, cake raffles and frantic brain racking are characteristic signs of a Junior class trying to make "ends meet" as plans for the Jr.-Sr. Prom begin to materialize.

Returning from Thanksgiving vacation we find basketball, wrestling and boys' intramurals in full swing. This season proved to be the best ever for the wrestlers who won the first Invitational in the history of Ord High wrestling and saw three boys, Gary Maresh, Jim Bodyfield and Lyle Sevenker, win at districts and go to State.

Christmas vacation comes and goes all too soon and the students of O.H.S. find themselves faced with the end of the first semester and Parent-Teacher conferences — the thought of which terrorizes any red-blooded student!

The ordeal of receiving semester grades over; students and faculty alike now concentrate on surviving the long, long stretch of concentrated, uninterrupted, vacationless school days that lie between Christmas and Easter vacation. At this time school activities almost seem to cease, leaving nothing but long days of lectures, tests, homework and the first signs of "spring fever!"

At the end of this "Third Quarter Slump" life begins to quicken again. Our Chant tracks take us to the football stadium where we see students clad in gray or red sweat suits vigorously training for future track and field meets. This is only the second year the boys have had to share "their" track with the girls track team.

Across the way we see the golf team wildly swinging clubs and hunting for lost balls as they practice for future meets.

As the months of April and May approach school activities once again reach an unbelievable high. F.B.L.A., Science Club and other school organizations made tracks out-of-town on numerous field trips. One such excursion was sponsored by Mr. Squier who accompanied 36 members of the Senior class to the Nebraska State Legislature in Lincoln.

The Junior track "Up the Down Staircase" in their class play which named Bryan Mentzer and Deb Greenway outstanding actor and actress.

Lynn Sevenker
"The joys of being a wrestler."

Rhonda Rogers
"My record will be released this coming January."

Penny Kusek, Larry Wells, Terry Hyde, Dave John

Steve Todsen, Cheryl Chalupa, Rhonda Rogers, Rita Wojtasek
"While the cat's away, the mice will play."

Vicky Bredthauer, Pat Hopkins
"Take Sominex tonight and sleep . . ."

Our Chant Tracks take us next to the halls of O.H.S. during Ecology Month, April 15 - May 15, where we find posters pleading all to lend a hand and join in the fight against pollution. The Science Club's main objective in sponsoring Ecology Month was to instill in the students and people of our community, the importance of preserving our natural resources.

Next we make tracks to the Athletic Banquet honoring the outstanding athletes of O.H.S. Another victory was won for the first time.

The Junior Class was seen making feverish tracks to and fro during the days preceding May 13. Their efforts were not in vain, for they presented a lovely prom in honor of the Seniors, the theme being "Through The Eyes Of A Child."

We near the end of the year as our Chant Tracks take us to Baccalaureate and Class Night. For the last time, the Seniors meet together as a class where they are honored for scholastic achievements and outstanding service.

1972 is the year . . . the year of the presidential election, of the Olympics and of President Nixon's trip to China. But to the 96 members of the Senior Class, it is a year of graduation, a year of saying goodby to many of your friends, a year to remember, and a year in which to start making decisions concerning the future.

Yes, the 1971-1972 school year has been exciting, stimulating, inspiring, mystifying, captivating, beneficial, shocking, questionable, startling, inestimable, and above all exhausting.

To further aquaint yourself with more details of this 1971-1972 past school year, continue to turn the pages.

THEME PAGE

All through our years at Ord High School, we've been lost . . . stopped in our tracks . . . unsure of directions, corrections, retractions, infractions.

Some of us were undecided about classes to take, organizations to join, sports to go out for.

Future plans, whether they pertained to "Should I ride the bus to the game?" or "What college should I attend?" were mixed up, hazy, sometimes completely out of focus.

Yet, in spite of our uncertainties, we never completely lost touch with our own minds and the mind of the world, because of the many wonderful people at OHS; people who have given of their time and talents, energies and ambitions, to guide us along the way.

The administration (also known as the establishment) has lead us with an iron hand and a caring heart. Rules were made by them, broken by us, and discussed by all . . . sometimes.

The school board, the forgotten group of men that met every first Monday of the month, has added its voice to guide our paths.

Of course, we can't forget the teachers, those witty, wacky, fun-loving monsters who, through lectures, assignments and threats, have managed to teach us new talents, ideas, concepts, and truths; things which were unknown to the world four years ago, undreamed of before that.

So, turn the page and meet our "Fearless Leaders".

The administrators of Ord High School have helped to direct our tracks as we ran through the years at OHS.

Dr. Gogan, superintendent of schools, served as the power source to keep our school running. He hired the teachers, attended meetings, and tied up the loose ends anytime the system became unraveled.

Mr. VanNordheif became principle for the '71-'72 school term, and as the year progressed, he became an open ear to the problems of the students, and a key man in the correction of any errors made against us.

Mr. Buoy, guidance counselor, was always one of our favorite guiding stars. He led us through mountains of national, state, and local tests, through the maze of class schedules, and through our own rivers of tears, to our goal, graduation.

Men of Administration,

We Thank You

SECRETARIES

Pat Grove

Marcia Plugge

Scotty Beran

Secretaries . . . those hardworking women behind the scenes of OHS that form the backbone of our school system. Without them, bills would go unpaid, new purchases could not be made, no one would answer the phones, and the books would be unbalanced.

We appreciate them very much.

Cooks

Mrs Howell, Mrs. Wozniak, Mrs. Kolar

Cashier

Food, food, food . . . how would we have ever survived during our long journey without the muscle-building, mind-enlarging, nerve strengthening substances prepared daily by the cooks of OHS.

They have survived and passed the true tests of good cooks; how to stretch 125 corn dogs to feed 400 starving cannibals, how to burn a cake and not cry, and how to plan meals so that they won't become a monotonous string of meat, potatoes, and yeacchhh!

Thank you, cooks, for all of your wonderful meals.

CUSTODIANS

Mr. Williams

Mr. Philbrick

Mr. Anderson

Mr. Michalski

How would we have ever found our way along the path to graduation, if the ever-faithful custodians had not been there to clear the way?

To these men with the cheery smiles and a will to work, we say, "Thanks!"

BUS DRIVERS

Mr. Green, Mr. David, Mr. Smith, Mr. Dockhorn, Mr. Hersh, Mr. Leuck, Mr. Nelson

The OHS "Knights of the Road" played a very essential part in our tracks to graduation. They provided transportation to football, basketball, and wrestling games, for field trips to various colleges and institutes, and, of course, they brought the "country kids" to town every day.

Neither rain nor snow nor 2-feet-deep mud kept them from their duty. We thank you, drivers.

It is finished.

Never again will the 97 members of the class of '72 be able to walk through the halls as members of OHS.

Never again can we be an Ordette, go out for the football team, or play in the pepband.

Never again will we have to get our hair cut, visit the principal's office, or be denied the right to dress as we please.

For we no longer belong here; we are graduates.

It's a sobering thought. We will have no one to depend on, no one to guide our actions. Every decision that stands before us, we, ourselves, will have to decide. Every problem we face will have to be solved without the help of others. When we have questions, there will be no one to tell us the answers, and when we find an answer, how will we know it's the right one? We will be more independent than we have ever been in our lives.

Leaving OHS will affect us in different ways.

Some will rejoice in the fact that we will finally be free of the restrictions and rules we have had to follow in the four years of our education here.

Some will feel lost without those same rules.

Most of us will miss the friends we have made in Ord, the teachers, the administrators, classmates, and underclassmen, the businessmen, and the citizens, for they have all played a very important part in our lives.

What will we remember from our high school days . . . the class parties, the football games, certain classes, embarrassing moments, homecoming dates? Probably all of us will remember these things, but we must not forget the most important gift that OHS has given us; our education.

It has taught us the parts of our body, the history of the world, the languages of other countries.

It has taught us the harsh necessity of conforming, the beauty of self-expression, the excitement of victory, the sorrow of defeat.

For these and all the lessons of life that OHS has taught us, we are deeply grateful.

EEVA KARHI

Our Chant Tracks lead us to one who has made the 1971-1972 school year extra special. Miss Eeva Karhi, of Vammala, Finland, became Ord's 10th foreign student through the Ord Rotary Club. During her nine month stay in the U.S.A., Eeva made her home with three Ord families; the Bernard Staab's, the Frank Andreesen's and the Marvin Weems's.

The people of our community learned many things about Finland as a result of Eeva's numerous slide presentations. We'll never forget the beautiful strains of Chopin's "Fantasy Impromptu", Jean Sibelius's "Kuusi", and "Etude", and the many works of Bach as Eeva presented many piano concerts.

Eeva will be remembered by her teachers as the hard working student who spoke five languages, by her classmates as the girl with the pretty smile and by all as an accomplished pianist.

Eeva Karhi
Foreign Exchange Student

The following is a note of thanks from our foreign student, Eeva Karhi:

Being as an exchange student really has taught me a lot of things; your different habits, how to associate with people, understand your way of living and FOOTBALL!!! Nowadays, when the world is getting so small, you'll notice that people really aren't very much different in the other part of the world. The biggest thing I've learned here is to know how to appreciate my own little country of Finland.

I want to give thanks to all the teachers and kids in Ord High, especially to the Seniors who have accepted me as a member of their class for this past year. Also the whole town seems to be full of nice people.

But the time keeps going its route, though sometimes I'd like to stop it for awhile. Just like now: my heart jumps for joy when thinking of seeing my family and friends again, but on the other hand, it hurts to leave all the kind people and possibly never meet again.

I wish some of you still get a chance to visit also my country during a trip to Europe. I would be glad to have you as my guest.

Thank you for everything! Eeva Karhi, Ojansuunkatu 6-C, Vammala, Finland

Center Ceiling Decoration

Our Chant Tracks take us back one year to the 1971 Jr.-Sr. Banquet. The theme, "We've Only Just Begun," was taken from the song with the same name made famous by the Carpenters. Ray Smith, manager of the KNLV radio station was the special speaker, and the entertainment was supplied by "The Jubilation."

Each Wall committee chose a phrase from the song and decorated according to its meaning. Jan Remington and Marla Norman were chairmen of the North Wall committee; Pat Beran and Jan Zapp of the East Wall; Sue Grove and Rhonda Rogers of the West Wall; Vicky Bredthauer and Pat Hopkins of the East Bleachers; JoAnn Dunbar and Jean Foth of the West Bleachers and Entrance; and Dave Hastings of the Ceiling committee.

The Sophomore girls serving wore blue shirts, red slacks and neckties, whereas the boys serving wore red shirts, blue pants and neckties. Both wore matching red, white and blue striped vests. The servers were: Sharellyn Barr, Jenny Belgram, Cheryl Chalupa, Londa David, Donna Hora, Ronda Hornickel, Albert Hruza, Louise Kapustka, Sue Kokes, Tom Kusek, Bob Lambert, Gary Maresh, Clint Meese, Bryan Mentzer, Gary Micek, Marcia Montanye, John Nelson, Darlene Osentowski, Keith Paulsen, Sharon Petska, Marty Petska, Lynn Sevenker, Lonnie Tvrdik, and Sue Valla.

All of these factors combined to make the 1971 Jr.-Sr. Banquet a tremendous success.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

If you made tracks to the Ord gym for the Senior Class presentation of "The Matchmaker", you shared in one of the most enjoyable evenings of the school year.

This comical four-act play by Thorton Wilder, plus the acting talents of sixteen seniors, and the directing skill of Mrs. Carol Geweke, combined to make one of the best theatrical productions in the history of the Ord High School.

The performance was given on two nights, with Jan Remington and Dave Hastings being chosen outstanding actress and actor by members of the audience.

Underclassmen . . . they make tracks in many directions, in many ways.

Juniors are headed toward their senior year and the ultimate goal, graduation. Their tracks are purposeful and large, although they tend to leave the path now and then.

Sophomores plant tracks filled with indecision, insecurity, but lots of fun. They run towards their junior year in hope of finding themselves and their place in life.

Freshmen leave flighty tracks. Some surge ahead of the pack to claim their place as future leaders of senior high; some keep plodding along, planning each step before it's taken.

Eighth graders make crazy, mixed up tracks. They rejoice because they are no longer the "little chicks" of the school, but try to resist the commands of the fearless freshmen.

Seventh graders are the pride and joy of the High School. Their tracks are tiny, fresh, and shaky as they take their first step into secondary education.

ORGANIZATIONS THEME

Question: What would high school be like without organizations?

Answer: No one would cheer our athletic teams on to victory.

The elderly people at the rest homes wouldn't get a cake for their birthdays.

We wouldn't have any spring Science Fair.

Acres of grassland would go unjudged.

No senior girl would be crowned Homecoming Queen.

There wouldn't be a Homecoming.

Our athletic department woudn't have a weight machine.

There would be no banquets at the end of the year.

Boys would never have gotten to be auctioned off to work for other people.

There would be no bright posters decorating our halls every Friday.

Students would have no excuse to leave the house because there would be no night activities to go to.

Life at OHS would consist mainly of studying, going to classes, and eating at the cafeteria.

In other words, it would be quite monotonous and boring.

Organizations have added excitement and adventure to our school life. They have added variation to the tracks we have made toward graduation.

Turn the page and take a walk through the organizations of OHS . . .

The 1971-72 Annual Staff consisting of 17 "Mighty" Seniors and one "Lowly" Junior began a year of hard work, copy and deadlines under the first year leadership of Mrs. Curtright. The group was blessed with one of the greatest sponsors ever, who despite a few new gray hairs, managed to pull us through the year. There was also another indispensable member of this group who ran errands, paid bills, kept records, and very efficiently handled all the mathematical problems and business transactions for the Staff: Rich Hruza, Business Manager.

The '72 Chant cover was designed by Sue Osborn. All cartoons and drawings in the Chant are "Kokes Originals" by Harold Kokes. We thank you both for your willingness to share your artistic talents. A special thanks goes to Pat Beran who devoted many long, frustrating hours writing and rewriting the copy for the annual. We mustn't overlook Mike Hruby, the only Junior and staff photographer. Many pictures in the annual were not only taken by Mike but developed as well.

The Editors devoted much time in writing copy and organizing candids for the special section "1971-1972 in Review."

Our thanks to all those who faithfully worked and helped make things go so smoothly while putting together this year's annual.

ORACLE STAFF

The 1971-1972 Oracle Staff once again showed outstanding work in the field of Journalism under the leadership of Pat Beran, editor and Dave Hastings, co-editor.

Although the main function of the Oracle Staff is to publish the school paper, throughout the year the staff did such things as conducted on-the-street interviews, and making films of various audio-visual equipment. Mr. Bosworth will use these films next year to train student assistants. Broadcasting is another important part of Journalism. During the first semester, Steve Todsen, Rita Wojtasek, Cheryl Chalupa, and Rhonda Rogers were involved in broadcasting. The second semester broadcasters were Steve Todsen, Cheryl Chalupa, and Jean Foth. They were in charge of the Chant's Chat program. Pat Beran and Jan Zapp were very busy also, writing the column "Chant-a-Line" which every week appeared in the Ord Quiz. A special thanks to all for a job well done!

The team placed 29th in the national competition out of a field of 54, and received a bronze plaque.

Mr. Andreesen

The FFA, FHA chapters of Ord high school have joint activities throughout the year. One of the most important events of the year is the "Sweetheart Dance", held on Valentines Day. Royalty for 1972 included: Linda Stiger — queen; Chuck Krcilek — king; Pat Hopkins — princess; Rich Hruza — prince. This year FFA president, Rich Hruza came up with the idea of a pheasant feed. While the guys were out tracking pheasants the girls prepared a meal to go with the birds.

These two organizations are two of the most active in Ord high. FHA members work to improve personal, family and community living.

The FFA members entire program is expressed in its motto:

"Learning to do,

Doing to learn;

Earning to live,

Living to serve."

This was a very eventful year for the Ord Chapter of Future Farmers of America. They left their tracks in many contests, two in which they won in State competition.

In Dairy Selection, at the State FFA Convention, their team placed first in the state and went on to Kansas City, Missouri, to represent Nebraska in the National Dairy Selection Contest for the Future Farmers.

In Range Judging, after many practice sessions in and out of the classroom, they competed in the District Range Judging Contest placing second. The Chapter then went to the State Contest, where they won as a team, and William Ziegler was top individual. They represented Nebraska at the National Range Judging Contest in Oklahoma in the Spring.

The Chapter was involved in many other contests such as District FFA Convention, Cattle Judging, Slave Auction, and Bake Sales.

In the Ag Shop they worked on many projects and studied a variety of Ag related courses.

"Toward New Horizons", the motto of the FHA organizations was an infinite challenge for 1971-72. The Ord chapter fulfilled this challenge with ease. The activities of the FHA included, Daddy Date Night, a supper prepared by the girls, with their fathers as a special date. The Sweetheart Dance; held on Valentines Day, was climaxed with the crowning of a king and queen. The Foreign Foods Supper, Birthday Cake Committee and bulletin board messages, initiating a fight against pollution were also projects of the organization. Vicky Bredthauer, had the honor of being District Treasurer, in her senior year. Jeanette Micek, in her second year of FHA, was a candidate for State Secretary.

The Varsity Cheerleaders (from left) Jenny Belgram, Marla Norman, head, Peg Klanecky, Linda Stiger, and Jackie Hurlbert inspired our team onto many a victory. Without their enthusiastic leadership at the head of the Pep Club, Ord High 1971-72 sports would not have been the same.

The Reserve Cheerleaders were (from left) Patty Veskerna, Vicki Bake, Janet Durand, Marilyn Kokes, and Jeanne Hyde, head. Since they were all sophomores it was their first time working with the Senior High Pep Club. Nevertheless, they came through with new yells and cheers that spurred our teams onto victory.

SPIRIT was what the Junior High Ordettes had a lot of this year. They backed their teams at every game with a tremendous amount of enthusiasm and devotion. It was evident that a lot of time and practice had been spent on the cheerleading routines and pep club yells.

The Junior High Pep Club was one of the largest and LOUDEST organizations at Ord High this past year.

DEBATE

Sponsor, Mrs. Geweke

With arguments for and against the '71-'72 national debate topic tucked securely in their "recipe files" the OHS Debate teams made tracks to debate meets in Kearney, Ord, and other area towns. The debate topic this year was, "Should the Jury System in the United States be significantly changed?"

Ticky tacky ticky tacky, ring, zzipp.

These are the sounds that the Future Business Leaders of America make as they prepare for their tracks toward a business career.

But the F.B.L.A. is not all work and no play. Laughter rang loud and clear at the many parties and on the bus trips they had this year.

For a money-making project, the F.B.L.A. sponsored a carnival and a polka stomp. Trophies were given to the winning couple, which was Jean Foth and Kelly Hansen.

The parties included a winter festival and a Senior breakfast honoring the Senior Girls, at which awards were given for outstanding typing, bookkeeping, and shorthand abilities.

The organization took bus trips to the Central Nebraska Technical College in Hastings, Hastings College, and Kearney State College.

The Science Club was very busy trying to make this year a bigger success than last year. Several field trips were planned. One of the trips was made to the planetarium in Hastings to see their Christmas presentation. Another trip was planned to visit the House of Yesterday in Hastings.

One of the biggest issues in the world today is Ecology, therefore, the Science Club decided to sponsor an Ecology week in March. This included the entire school. There was a competition between all the classes in school to see which class could bring the most cans. These cans were sent to Omaha to be recycled. Another group project for Ecology week was to collect trash along the highway.

A lot of work was put in on the Science Fair this year which was held on April 20. The Fair was open for entries from all the area schools. An example of some of the individual projects were: a lie detector, the affects of tar and nicotine on the skin of living rats, and the different ways that mineral deficient soil affects plants.

Not only were all of these projects fun, they were very beneficial to both the student and the community. Now don't you want to join Science Club next year?

MUSIC THEME

As we make our tracks through high school, the road seems easier when we sing a song or hum a tune, for music eases the mind and rests the soul.

But, as proven by the OHS Music Department, music can be stimulating, exciting, and stirring, too.

This year, many new things happened in the Music Department. Alvin Foote took over as the music instructor, teaching Varsity Band, Varsity Chorus, B-Band, and the Seventh and Eighth Grade Bands.

The Dance band had a new sound with three electric guitars being added to it.

For the first time ever at OHS, the Pep band had a female trapset player. (Crack 'em, Women's Lib!)

In the spring, the entire senior high Music Department put on a Pop's Concert that really rocked the audience.

Of course, old traditions remained intact, such as the football marching band spending cold mornings stomping the sod on the football field, preparing for their weekly halftime show.

So, turn the page, get the beat, and dance to the sounds of the OHS Music Department.

MARCHING BAND

"I'm cold."

"0h my aching feet."

"Lift those knees, point those toes."

"When do I turn?"

"My breath is frozen in my horn."

"Impossible! Play!"

And so it went for many mornings in September, October, and November as the Chanticleer Marching Band stomped the gridiron sod in preparation for their many halftime shows.

This year they were led by a new drum major, Larry Koelling, and a new solo twirler, Andrea Andreesen. Mr. Alvin Foote was also new on the scene, as he was hired as the new music instructor.

The band performed at the Burwell Rodeo, Arcadia Fall Festival, North Loup Popcorn Days Parade, and the Shrine Parade in Lincoln.

Music is an important means of communication. Once the basic fundamentals of music are learned, one is definitely on the track of expressing himself in a most creative way through music.

OHS students who took Varsity Chorus this past year studied music in depth and found out what this art of expression really is.

SPORTS THEME

To make tracks that stand out in high school, a student must excel in one or more areas, such as music, speech, math, or athletics.

This year, more and more OHS students have turned their attention to sports, especially the females of our school. Volleyball, and track, have attracted them to the exacting, exhausting world of athletic competition.

A review of the season records of most of the sports might show more losses than victories, but the gains made in physical well-being, mental attitudes, and sportsman-like conduct are what really matter in the end.

In making tracks, not only in our youth, but throughout life, we will meet problems that will have to be solved through physical strength and stamina. Unless our bodies are in perfect condition, we will be unable to meet the test.

High school athletics provide an organized method of exercise and body building, and for every type and build of body, there is a sport suited for it.

So, take a deep breath, turn the page, and dive headlong into the world of sports.

"Hittin' the bottle again."

What better way to be in shape than to go out for girls sports?

As the females of OHS made their tracks toward graduation, they realized the importance of body conditioning in gaining their goals.

Volleyball, in its second year at OHS, has provided good strenuous exercise, and has taught the traits of discipline and dedication to 20 senior high girls.

It also has given coach Jan Weber many fun times, fond memories, and splitting headaches. But she's loved every minute of it . . . right, Coach?

GIRLS' TRACK

By the end of the season the girls found there were 346 stairs, 75 hallways, 50 blocks around the school. Miss Weber discovered the difference between the big hand and the little . . . that is on her watch! They also found they could wear out shoes faster than they could manufacture them.

Miss Weber has coached the Ord High girls for three years . . . and we would like to commend her on the fantabulous job. YEA!! Miss Weber

The Chant Varsity Wrestling Squad completed a very successful 1971-1972 season with 7 wins and 2 losses. The first triumph of the season came with winning the first place trophy in Central City at the Invitational in which eight schools participated. At the District Wrestling meet in St. Paul, Ord placed fifth and saw three members of the squad off to State. Lyle Sevenker, 145 lb. Senior, was victorious in the preliminary round but was defeated in the quarter-finals. Gary Maresh, 112 lb. Junior, put forth a tremendous effort and wrestled into the semi-finals where he was defeated by decision. Jim Bodyfield, 138 lb. Senior, was the first wrestler in the history of Ord High Wrestling to advance to the finals in a State meet, where he placed 2nd in the state.

Well done wrestlers!

How many dimples are there in a golf ball?

The answer to this question, (335), and many others were discovered at the Ord Golf Course as two freshmen, four sophomores, two seniors, and one bewildered coach began training for the 1972 golf season. This year, our golfers tracked to Aurora for Central Ten, District at Neligh, and the state meet at Alliance. Ord also was host to a Quadrangular meet that was held April 14. Overall, the 1972 Golf Season was very successful.

Eighth Grade Wall in competition.

The crowning of senior Terry Hyde highlighted the 1971 Homecoming festivities at Ord High School. A Spirit Week contest sponsored by the Senior High Student Council was won by the sophomore class. CONCLUSION

And so we come to the end.

We have made our tracks through the '72 Chant, reviewed the accomplishments and failures of this school year, and remembered the good times, classes, teachers, and new experiences.

But, although the pages have ended, life has not. It lies ahead, eternally, mysteriously, to be probed and investigated, to be cherished, revered, and respected.

Life is beautiful only when we make it so, sad only when we cry, fulfilling only when we learn to give of ourselves.

For we seniors, high school life is now only a memory, a memory that we have no power to change for we are no longer a part of OHS.

But you underclassmen will be making tracks in these halls next year and for years to come. Don't sell yourself short; make the most of these years, for they can provide the most wonderful experiences of your lives.

If you want your school to be great, remember that it's greatness can only come from your own accomplishments. If you want it to be a source of pride, begin with pride in yourself. If you want your school to be famous for it's athletics, begin by strengthening your own body. If you want it to be known for it's educational opportunities, begin by improving your own scholastic outlook.

A high school is made of students; only the students can determine the success of a high school.

If you feel changes are needed, obtain them in a mature way. Strengthen the good points of OHS and erase it's weaknesses.

Remember that the amount of success you have in not only high school, but in everything you do throughout life, will be determined by the amount of effort you put into it.

Life can be so beautiful if you want it to be. It's your decision . . .

Richard,

I'll always remember March 21 – Tuesday night – the first time we were together. For me – that is something to remember and I'll hope you'll always remember it, too.

I'm gonna try and write a whole page (if ya don't mind) so there will always be something from me to remember. You've made me so happy all ready and I know that that is the way it will stay. You'll probably laugh when you read this but it's not suppose to be funny. I'll always remember all of the times we've been together and all the good feelings (???) we've given each other!!! How about that.? And remember – don't ever forget — I do love you and I don't care who else reads this cause I think everyone should know how I feel about you. I hope you like your graduation gift I'm going to get you. I'll get it after school and give it to you after graduation when we are alone. Can't think of much else to say so I'll stop here. Luv ya lots.

Love you,
Martha
